

AASP 2023 KS Yang Travel Award

Application Deadline: Tuesday (12pm NOON, Hong Kong time), April 4, 2023

The Asian Association of Social Psychology is pleased to announce that applications for the KS Yang Travel Award are open. This award is designated to provide financial assistance for deserving young scholars from developing countries to attend AASP Conferences (see <https://asiansocialpsych.org/awards-and-scholarships/ks-yang-travel-award/>). To commemorate our return to an in-person conference since the pandemic, two awards in the amount of up to USD$750 will be offered to support the two awardees' travel and accommodation costs, and the conference registration fees will be waived for each awardee.

Who can apply?

Early career researchers from any developing nation (World Bank low or mid-income economy) who obtained their Ph.D. within 10 years from the date of application submission are eligible.

What is covered?

Two awards will be given in the amount of up to USD$750 reimbursement for travel and accommodation costs for attending AASP2023, and conference registration fee will be waived.

How to apply?

In addition to submitting and receiving an acceptance for an abstract to the conference, KS Yang award applicants should also provide:

1. A 200-word statement briefly outlining eligibility and need,
2. a Curriculum Vitae (CV) detailing your research and teaching activities,
3. a full copy of the paper you intend to present at AASP 2023 (2,000-6,000 words), and
4. a letter of recommendation from a more senior colleague.

The application due date is Tuesday (12pm NOON, Hong Kong time), April 4, 2023. Please use the link below to provide the following information.
